A high-contrast, black and white photograph of a dark, mountainous landscape. A winding path or road leads up a hillside towards a small cluster of buildings or a village. The sky is filled with heavy, dramatic clouds. The overall mood is somber and mysterious.

MRS. CORNELIA H. VANN

DEDICATION

In recognition of her thirty-seven years of loyal service to Mars Hill College . . .

In acknowledgment of her contributions as an educator.
More than just a teacher of German and Spanish,
she has aided and inspired her students to achieve the very best in life . . .

In appreciation of her fine example in Christian living . . .

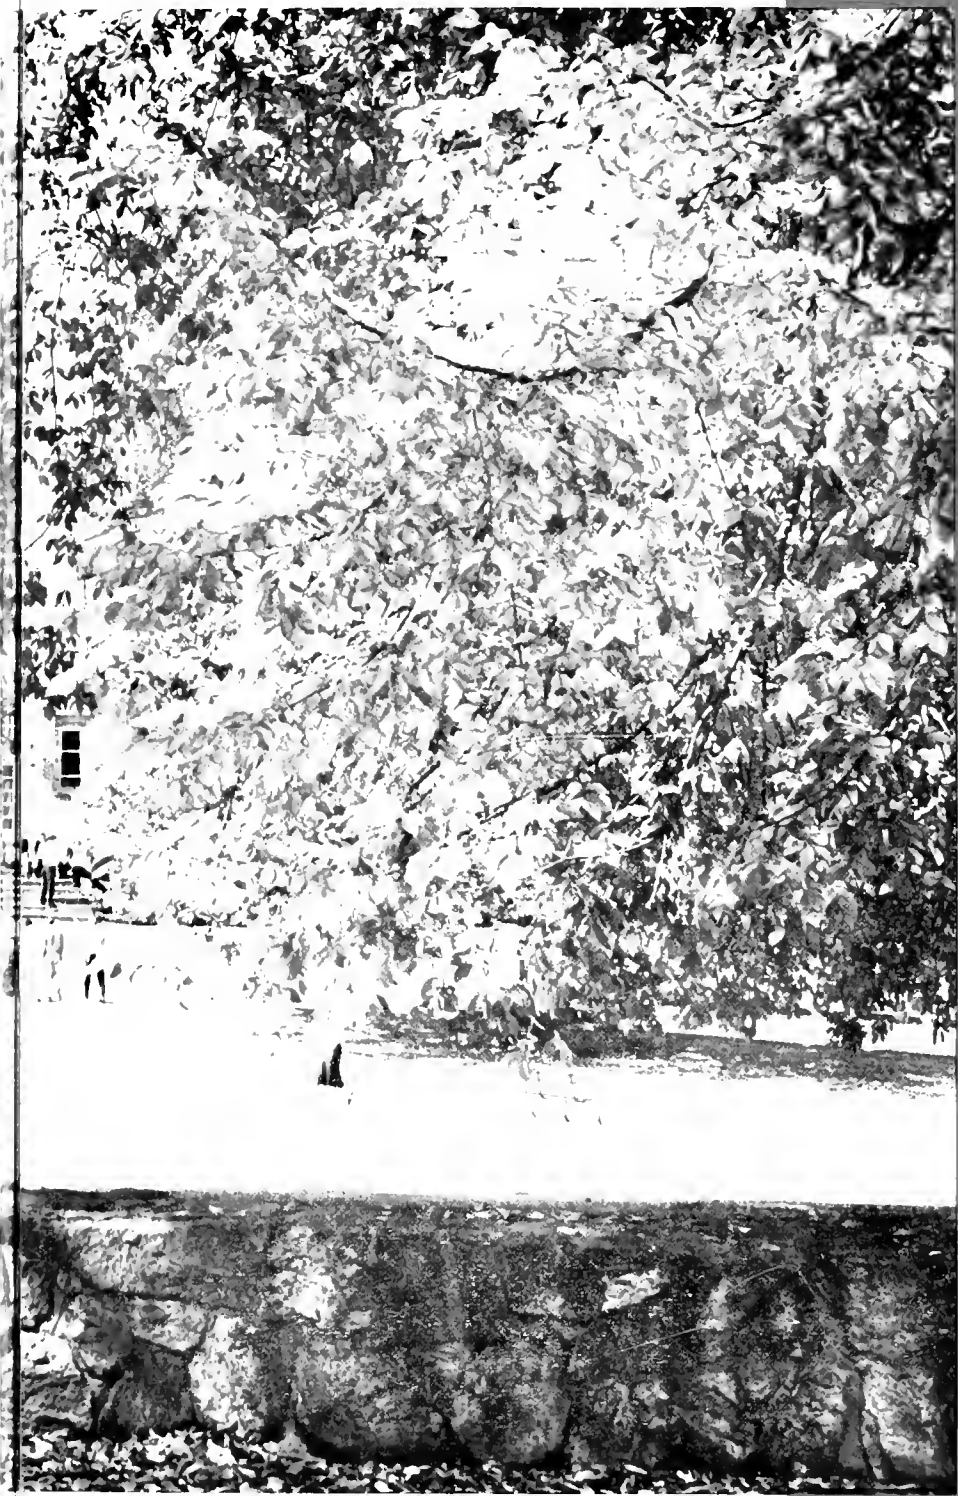

For all these reasons, and many more, we dedicate the 1958

OUR PRESIDENT AND HIS MESSAGE

PRESIDENT HOYT BLACKWELL

The invigorating climate which has pervaded the Mars Hill College campus for more than one hundred years has been produced by the unimpeachable academic and spiritual integrity of the college. The quality of education required for the space age will call for an environment such as this. There will be no person or group of persons more responsible for this at Mars Hill than will the students themselves. I have no lack of confidence that they will meet this responsibility in full measure. It is a high privilege to be an active member of the Mars Hill family.

Cordially,

HOYT BLACKWELL

Class Sponsors

We Sophomores returned UNTO THESE HILLS in September with renewed determination and a clearer conception of purpose. The months at Mars Hill which passed so slowly at the beginning of the freshman year began to race by. New responsibilities and offices, more specialized courses, and the necessity of transferring to a senior college served to intensify a new seriousness of action. We will never forget the challenge to plain living and high thinking which has been instilled within us during our months among these hills.

The members of the Freshman Class came UNTO THESE HILLS in September with many varied expectations — bubbling enthusiasm, shaky uneasiness, and occasional overconfidence. In spite of such events as Sputnik and the Asiatic flu, these new Mars Hillians adapted themselves to college life with remarkable ease. Confidence and complacency characterize these “little” mountain lions as they select and track their “prey,” or goal in life. They are learning of the strength and peace of lifting up one’s eyes unto the hills and seeking for the higher things in life.

GEORGIA CARROLL KYSER

SELECTS

MISS LAUREL

Georgia Carroll Kyser is a former Powers model and has appeared in VOGUE and HARPER'S. She was under contract at Warner Brothers for a year and studied drama in Hollywood with some of today's leading stars. Then she met Kay Kyser and sang with his orchestra for two years.

The Kysers moved to Chapel Hill six years ago. They have three daughters — Kim, Carroll, and Amanda.

Mr. Charlton L. Davis
Editor, 1958 LAUREL
Mars Hill College
Mars Hill, North Carolina

Dear Mr. Davis:

All the girls are so lovely that it was quite a problem to select the prettiest. With a little help from my husband, I have finally made a decision.

Hope you like our selection.

Very sincerely,

Georgia Kyser

MARTHA LINNEY
Faculty Advisor

The story of the making of the 1958 LAUREL would make dull reading for everyone except the staff members. However, the job itself has been anything but dull and uninteresting: it has been an experience that each of us will never forget. At times it has been trying and discouraging, especially when we had a deadline, two tests, and an English paper due on the same day. It has had its more enjoyable times with the staff meetings conducted in the cafeteria and soda shop. By working as a team, we came to know and appreciate each other.

Each of us became staff members because we were interested in the work and because we wanted to make a tangible contribution to our school and to our classmates. Our goal has been to produce the best yearbook possible, to give you your money's worth.

We have not been alone in our work. Our advisor, Miss Martha Linney, spent as much time in the LAUREL office as she did in her own. Mr. Chapman's advice was invaluable. Walter Smith, Director of Publicity, was always available to run all over campus taking pictures. Kermit Hunter, author of the Cherokee drama, UNTO THESE HILLS, provided us with the idea to build our book around the beauty of our surroundings and the Christian inspiration that comes with the beauty of nature. The staff wishes to thank these people for their skillful and patient assistance.

Photographs and art work must be coordinated with the dummy layout by Associate Editor Pat Sechrist, Art Editor Jim Meador, and Assistant Editor Marta Fredy.

Complete rosters of students, faculty, and staff must be prepared and matched with pictures. Sherrel Humphries and Phyllis Kiser perform this exacting work.

A familiar sight on campus is Walter Smith as he takes pictures for the LAUREL.

Copy for various organizations must be written and proofread, the duty of Assistant Editors Lanny Cross, Pat Curry, and Hyatt Gibbs.

ELEANOR BOYD

Faculty Advisor

"Deadline Friday at 5:00."

These ominous words haunt HILLTOP reporters as they endeavor to cover the news that keeps you informed about coming events, outstanding visitors, and the outcome of the latest ball game. Frantic last minute phone calls, reports that the only person with information just left for the weekend, typewriters that cannot spell, headlines that refuse to fit drive us to vow to give up journalism.

From drawing lines for make-up, typing, and correcting proof to finding some way to fill that two-column hole in the middle of page one, each of us has contributed our part in making the HILLTOP your paper. Long hours, hard work, and new gray hairs have somehow blended into a year that has been one we loved — in spite of fifteen issues and a literary edition.

NONPAREIL-EUTHALIAN

The ideals of DIGNITY, SIMPLICITY, and CONSERVATISM, upon which the Hall of Black and Gold is founded, are firmly implanted in the minds of every Non and Eu. To be remembered is the bond existing between the two, the ward fellowship and friendship in the Hall, and the loyalty displayed by the hard work in the many contests and social activities. Deeply imbedded in our memories are the pep rallies, serenades on the Hill, "Robin Hood," "Beyond the Maze," and Society Day.

HONOR CLUBS

Each member of an honor club is required to have at least thirty quality points, to make C or above on all of his subjects, and to make at least B on the subject represented by his club. The professors of the various subjects represented by the clubs serve as the advisors. The honor clubs give each member an opportunity to delve more fully and enjoyably into his favorite subject and to become acquainted with the outstanding students of this subject from other classes. Each club meets monthly for a program and social hour, and each club also presents a chapel program emphasizing its meaning, purpose, and activities.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

World tension and crisis, the United Nations, Sputnik, and other national and world affairs meet our scrutiny each month. We attempt to study international relations and problems from an unbiased viewpoint in an effort to make each member a more intelligent and alert citizen of our country and the world. Such events as discussing the post-Sputnik situation of the world and attending the national convention in Washington, D. C., aid in creating an interest in international relations.

In 1713 several scholars formed the English literary group in England known as the Scriblerus Club to satirize "false tastes in learning." In true harmony with the first Scriblerus Club, we seek to appreciate the best literature. We discuss outstanding achievements and stimulate interest in English and world literature, as well as encourage creative expression. Our projects include presenting Eugene O'Neill's Ile and sending books to a boys' high school in Mandalay, Burma.

SCRIBLERUS CLUB

Seated: Beverly Gibbs, Ann Walton, Lynda Crawford, Rubynel Austin, Johnnie Russell.

Standing: Coleman Markham, Hilda Adams, Ann Wilson, Joel Land.

BUSINESS CLUB

Our purpose is to stimulate interest in business activities, to develop a knowledge of business ethics, to keep abreast of current methods and procedures in business, and to develop personality traits commensurate with the demands of the business office and in harmony with true Christian character. Our Business Club Alumni Association makes our club unique among Mars Hill's honor clubs. Our club publishes the Business Club Alumni Quarterly and presents the Business Club Alumni Association Medal to a deserving club member at our annual banquet.

Standing: Lee Shoemaker, Patsy Kenyon, Barbara Griffith, Margaret Ann Gidney.

"Parlez-vous francais?" Sometimes we wonder if we do as we watch some of our fast-moving programs which are always in French. We enjoy familiarizing ourselves with the French language as we study the people, country, and customs of France. We have presented skits in French and seen Dr. Seymour's slides of France. We have also enjoyed singing French songs and cross-examining each other about French history. Meeting in the home of Mrs. Nona Roberts completes the family-like feeling of our small club.

FRENCH CLUB

Seated: Karen Bailey, Norma Lockaby, Nova Rhodes.

Standing: Hyatt Gibbs, Tommy Tillman, Don Thomas.

SPANISH CLUB

The cherished memories which each of us have for our club include eating and discussing Spanish food at our Spanish supper, maintaining a favorite Spanish custom of breaking the pinata containing goodies at our Christmas party, and meeting with the other modern language clubs for a joint meeting. We develop our speaking use of Spanish as we acquaint ourselves with the history and customs of the Spanish countries.

Seated: Ramona Sawyer, Patricia Sechrist.

Standing: Jennings Wagoner, Kay O'Briant, Patricia Carroll.

We also enjoy the warmth and family-like effect of our small club of German enthusiasts. We meet in the home of Mrs. Cornelia Vann to study and enjoy the spoken language and culture of the Germans. We will long remember many of our activities, such as listening to the record of Till Eulenspiegel's pranks and enjoying the talk of Jill Browne, a former goodwill ambassador to Germany and other European countries.

Standing: David Milligan, Milton Massey, Charles Pierce.

LOGOTHIA CLUB

"Logos" and "theos," the Greek words for "word" and "God," are combined to signify the Bible in our club's name. As the outstanding Bible students, we seek a better acquaintance of the Word of God. We study old Hebrew customs as well as modern Christian customs around the world. We also examine the beliefs, customs, and art of the other great religions of the world.

We are seeking the musical perfection of Orpheus, the great musician of Greek mythology who, at the death of his wife, Eurydice, descended to Hades and so pleased Pluto with his music that the god allowed him to lead his wife back to earth on the condition that he should not look behind him. But we are seeking a musical appreciation and perfection which cannot be put to nought by a single backward glance. We strive to further our knowledge and appreciation of music by studying great music and great composers.

ORPHEON CLUB

Seated: Mr. Elwood Roberts, Edith Shepherd, Marilyn Hughes.

Standing: Jimmy Williams, Tom Reynolds, Gerald Deaton.

SCIENCE CLUB

Sputniks, Muttniks, and Vanguard rockets can be, and often are, appropriately discussed at our meetings. We are interested in the latest scientific developments and the progress of research in the various fields of science. Many of us anticipate scientific careers and realize the importance of staying abreast of current advances. Not among the least of our strong points is our advisor, the versatile, the witty, the one and only Mr. Vernon E. Wood. (We say this "without fear of successful contradiction"!)

Seated: Mr. Vernon E. Wood, Bob Key, Sonja Watson, Georgia Todd, John Brown, Dr. L. M. Outten.

MINISTERIAL CONFERENCE

We feel that God has sent His call to us to become Christian ministers. Our weekly meetings are planned to instruct us and unite us in our desire to lead ourselves and others to a fuller realization and application of the Christian life. Experienced ministers and teachers give us valuable aid in the art of preaching, Bible reading, and effective witnessing.

We help with each of the Sunday evening worship services and take charge of the entire service once each quarter. The experience and friends we have in the Ministerial Conference will long be a source of help and encouragement for each of us.

Under the leadership of Coach Henderson, the Mars Hill Eleven captured the Western Carolina Junior College championship for the second year in succession. Their only conference loss was to Gardner-Webb, 14-0. The Lions had just returned from a battle with the flu and were suffering from a lack of practice. Earlier in the year the Lions tied with the Wingate Bulldogs, 7-7.

The Lions fought through mud to win their first game of the season by shutting out Ferrum, 16-0. In defense of their conference title, the Lions beat conference team Lees-McRae with a third period field goal to make the final score 17-14. Then Gardner-Webb gave the Lions their first defeat by a 14-0 score. The Lions dropped their second defeat to Wingate, 13-6. The Carson-Newman College Jayvees turned three Lions' fumbles into touchdowns as they shut out the Lions in their last game of the season, 25-0.

The games with Marion Military Institute and the Appalachian Jayvees were cancelled due to the flu, and the Carson-Newman game was postponed from September 27 until November 15. The Lions ended the season with a 3-3-1 record.

Tackle Buck Lyda and end John Wright were named to the All-Conference Squad. Both men played for the Lions last year and showed fine performances this year. Other returnees were guards Lawrence Ponder and Tommy Bell and halfbacks Red Sudderth, Ken Horton, and Ed Morton. Linemen Claude Sitton, Wayne Whitson, Judd Force, Dick Kirby, and Jim Harris saw action with the Lions again this year.

Some of the new boys on the squad this year were Russell Bowman, Clifton McClure, Bill Self, Gerald Lankford, Jim Langford, Hack Ezell, Conrad Keesecker, Jerry Ball, Gene Hall, and Ross Knowlton. Mac Thacker, a transfer from Fishburne Military Academy, was also valuable to the Lions this year.

BASKETBALL

The Mars Hill Mountain Lions, coached by Robert Edwards, began their 1957-58 season with a thrilling overtime win over Asheville-Biltmore. The home team scored fifteen points in the overtime to win 71-62. The Lions played one of their best games and romped the Spartanburg Pioneers, 91-65. The 91 points was the largest total of the season for them. Another win for the Lions was a second half comeback against Gardner-Webb. With ten minutes to play, the Lions overcame a twelve-point difference to win, 55-51.

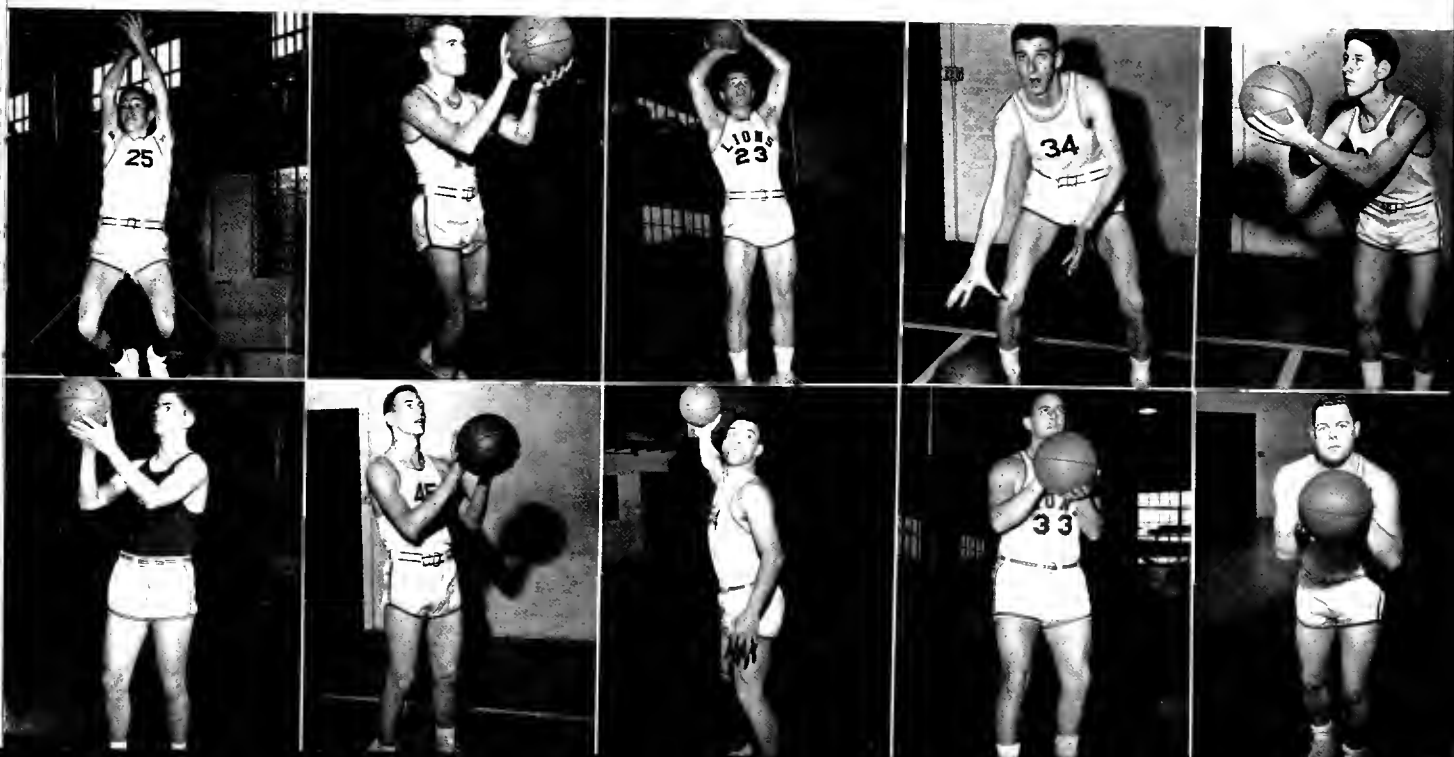

The Lions entered the conference tournament with a 5-5 record. Their record for conference play was 4-5, and they held down fourth position in the conference standings. The Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb downed the Lions in the first game of tournament play. Going into the tournament, Mickey Hoyle and John Wright led the scoring for the Lions. Hoyle, a freshman from Asheville, poured in 198 markers for an average of 16.5 per game. Captain Wright, a sophomore from Bristol, scored 182 points and had a 15.2 average per game. Also seeing action for the Lions were Mac Caldwell, Tommy Sherman, Ellis Murphy, and Mac Thacker. Carroll Wright and Wayne Whitson left the Lions at the end of the first semester.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

VIRGINIA HART
Coach

We strive to promote wholesome and healthful activity, to stimulate an interest in athletics, to create a spirit of good sportsmanship, and to cooperate with other campus organizations in promoting and maintaining the highest standards of college life.

Every young woman on campus is a member of the W.A.A., but before one can become an active member, she must join a sports club. The participation in the various sports provides a splendid intramural program. This year we sponsored the Red Cross Blood Bank, participated in chapel assemblies, operated concession stands at the football and basketball games, and sponsored other worthwhile activities.
